Villegas believes he's right for Yolo

Last week, the News-Ledger brought you an interview with Norma Alcalá, who is running for the Yolo County Board of Supervisors. This week, we offer this chat with Oscar Villegas, who hopes to keep that seat.

This race is part of the June 3 ballot.

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

"This job is not one you can just sort of stumble into," Oscar Villegas told the News-Ledger on Saturday. "You really need to understand the issues, the personalities, the different government components and the complexity of the issues. My ability to 'not complicate the simple issues' and to 'not simplify the complex issues' is important."

Villegas, took a seat on the Yolo County Board of Supervisors this year to represent Clarksburg and most of West Sacramento in "District 1." It was a governor's appointment, made to fill a vacancy made when Michael McGowan moved on to other things.

Villegas feels he's made a good start on the board, and deserves to be re-elected on Tuesday's ballot.

Challenger Normal Alcalá, a fellow Democrat, has criticized Villegas for "double dipping" as both a paid full-time county supervisor and full-time employee of the state. But Villegas told the News-Ledger he is no longer a full-time state worker.

"What I'm doing right now is working part-time for the state, and full-time for the county," he commented. "I don't see myself increasing my time with the state."

"I also have two full-time staff in my (board of supervisors) office."

Villegas has always lived in West Sacramento. He grew up in the Bryte neighborhood in the city's northwest, attending local schools and then Christian Brothers High School. He earned a degree in criminal justice from Sacramento State.

He said he has volunteered his time coaching Little League and soccer, working with Meals on Wheels and being civically involved. Twenty-two years ago, he married Katie Villegas, who is now a member of the local school board and the executive of the Yolo County Children's Alliance. They have two kids and live in Southport, "a mile south of the Pheasant Club."

"I have always been active," said Oscar Villegas. "My first date with Katie was actually walking precincts for (Yolo Sheriff) Bob Martinez. I said, 'What are you doing Saturday,' and she said, 'nothing.' I said, 'Great, I'm walking precincts - why don't you join me?'"

During college in the 1980s, Villegas said he was doing school projects on the issue of whether what was then "East Yolo" should become a city. He looked at the government studies and reports, concluding it should.

It did, actually. The neighborhoods of "East Yolo" became West Sacramento in 1987.

Villegas eventually served on the city's planning commission (he was appointed first by Wes Beers and then by current mayor Christopher Cabaldon), and then served as a city councilman for 13 years.

"We've worked very well together," he said of Cabaldon. Villegas has not, though, endorsed council colleague Mark Johannessen in Johannessen's current run for state assembly.

Villegas now works as a field representative for the state board of state and community corrections, working with local governments helping to train corrections personnel.

That job meshes a bit with one of Yolo County's big current issues, called "realignment." That's a move by the State of California to move some state prisoners into local jails, and let some prisoners out of jail under supervised programs. It's meant to combat state prison overcrowding. Villegas said Yolo County is doing an effective job so far trying to manage this process and prevent some of these released prisoners from re-offending.

"Our communities cannot afford to find out that the policies the county has instituted have not worked, and we have this perpetual recidivism, and it's unsafe," he commented.

To that end, Yolo needs to study which classes of prisoners need to be targeted for services and support to prevent them from committing new crimes.

"Now, you have the sheriff, the D.A., the public defender, the probation department and the cities all working together to figure out how you are going to manage this population if more people are going to be let out into our communities rather

Officer-involved shooting:

Carjacking suspect allegedly tried to ram police vehicles including an officer's motorcycle: he's unhit, but in jail

A West Sacramento Police Officer fired shots at a suspect he believed was trying to ram the officer's motorcycle during a carjacking and a police chase Monday morning. The suspect wasn't hit by the gunfire, but was soon arrested.

A carjacking victim went to the hospital for treatment.

The events started to unfold at 11:33 a.m. at 3065 West Capitol Avenue — the site of a shopping center and parking lot, at the corner of Harbor Boulevard — when someone reported a shooting. Police received a report that an armed man was running in the area, said Lieutenant Nathan Steele of the W.S.P.D.

Then, police received reports that the suspect was armed with a screwdriver — and was being chased by witnesses who believed he had been trying to break into a vehicle at the site.

"The suspect assaulted a citizen and carjacked his vehicle as officers were arriving at the scene," said a statement from Steele. "Officers attempted to stop the suspect in the stolen vehicle, at which time the suspect led officers on a high-speed pursuit."

"On several occasions during the pursuit, the suspect attempted to strike West Sacramento police officers' patrol cars with his vehicle. The suspect then attempted to strike a West Sacramento police officer on a motorcycle. The motor officer, fearing for his safety, fired at the suspect and his vehicle. No parties were struck or injured."

The suspect then crashed the vehicle and fled on foot, before being caught without further incident, reported Steele. The chase concluded on or near Evergreen Avenue, he told the News-Ledger.

The man was identified as 37-year old Thomas Brewer of Sacramento. He faces "numerous" felony charges," said Steele.

The motorcycle officer who fired the shots was placed on routine paid leave while the incident is investigated by the police department and Yolo County District Attorney's Office.

Anyone with information is asked to call Detective Eric Palmer, (916) 617-4935.

'State of the City'

MAYOR CHRISTOPHER CABALDON was the keynote speaker at Wednesday's annual 'State of the City' dinner held at city hall. Cabaldon didn't announce any major new initiatives at the event, which was sponsored by the local chamber of commerce and featured a catered dinner for paying guests.

The mayor did express his continued bullishness on the city, including its plans to create a new urban waterfront and continue its work to become a food industry hub.

More in next week's News-Ledger.

POLICE LOG

News items below are collected from police dispatchers' notes and arrest reports. The information in them has often not been verified beyond the initial reports.

May 23

A Carmichael woman said her debit card information had been used to make an unauthorized $211 purchase. She suspected it was done by someone working at a store on Lake Washington Boulevard in West Sacramento.

May 24, 6:00 a.m.

A break-in was reported at a Merkley Avenue Indian restaurant. Someone took $1,325 in food and kitchen items, as well as a computer.

May 24, 6 a.m.

An adult day care center on the same Merkley Avenue block reported that someone had apparently been camping on the site and had tried to break into a building.

May 25, 9:29 a.m.

A vehicle was found burglarized on Cedarbrook Road.

May 24, 10:15 a.m.

Events mentioned in police records on May 24 and May 25 were apparently considered the same case:

On the 24th, "multiple" RVs, trailers and vehicles were found burglarized at an F Street location. Items were reported missing, including firearms (a Makarov semi-automatic handgun was reported stolen).

Three of the burgled vehicles were buses belonging to the federal Department of Homeland Security.

At 3:31 a.m. on the 25th, someone in a trailer on the property reported a burglar had just walked in while he was sleeping. The would-be thief was wearing a black baseball cap and black T-shirt, and fled after being confronted. The victim then looked around, and found that someone had broken into a separate trailer nearby, leaving items sitting in its doorway.

Police responded to look for the burglar.

A police dog "located and bit the suspect, who was hiding in an old school bus on the property."

A cockroach with a face she'll never forget

Awhile back, a longtime West Sacramento friend of mine with a very concerned look on her face asked me if I had ever found cockroaches in my house.

"No," I said, mentally knocking on wood, "but quite a few spiders always seem to find a way to get inside during the winter. And now and then long lines of ants seem to enjoy using my driveway and patio on their way to and from wherever they're going. Oh, and on more than one moonlit night I've spotted big old rats strolling along way up high on the electrical lines in my backyard."

"Yuck!"

"Why do you ask?"

"Well, our stupid dog found a few cockroaches in one of our back bedrooms a few weeks ago and nothing freaks me out more than cockroaches. Nothing!"

"Why is that?"

"Well, it goes all the way back to when I first got my job at the State of California and one of them got on my open-toed shoe under my desk at work. You should have seen that awful looking thing! And it knew I had discovered him, too. It had a really scared look on its face, you know, just like those freaked-out cockroaches in the Raid commercials."

"Really?"

"Oh, yeah. It actually froze for a moment, but then it got brave again and began hissing and waving its nasty little antennae back and forth at me. And those ugly things had to be two inches long! And the cockroach itself was huge! Plus it was shiny, with an auburn covered back and gross little hairs all over it. Just looking at it made me want to throw up!"

"What did you do?"

"What do you think I did? I screamed!"

"I mean after that."

"Well, I shook my shoe off of course -- which flew halfway across the office -- and then I called building security. And what a jerk that guy turned out to be."

"How so?"

"Well, to begin with, he was so condescending, just like all men are when it comes to women being scared of things."

"What did he say?"

"He had this stupid grin on his face and this big flashlight in his fat hand and he said, 'Are you the frightened young lady who wants me to kill a little bug for her?'"

"And what did you say?"

"I told him it wasn't just a little bug, but the biggest &^$%#@ cockroach I had ever seen!"

"So did he find it and kill it for you?"

"No, not right away, because to tell you the truth, I think he was more scared of the darn thing than I was. So he just played around with his flashlight for awhile, shining it here and there, and when he didn't see anything at first, he said to just give him a call if it showed up again. But I told him there was no way I was going to return to my desk until he found it and killed it, so he looked a little harder and finally saw it."

"Are you sure it was the same one you saw? You know, when you find one cockroach, you usually find a few more."

"No, it was the same one alright. I'll never forget that face!"

As our conversation continued, I mentioned that years earlier I had written a column about some cockroaches my daughter had once found in the kitchen of her rented house and how hard it had been for her to get rid of them. I also said that there are actually more than 4500 difference kinds of cockroaches and that they have been hanging around on earth for more than 350 million years.

"The way they work," I explained, "is that they get into people's houses while looking for a food and water source, although they can actually live without food or water for up to three months. Then they leave behind these bacteria-laced chemical trails in their feces so that their buddies can join them once one of them finds something good to eat or drink, which can be anything from pet food that people have

'He said to just give him a call if it showed up again,' she said. 'But I told him there was no way I was going to return to my desk until he found it and killed it, so he looked a little harder and finally saw it. . .'

left out to nasty old food scraps that somehow ended up on the floor and under or behind our refrigerators and stoves. And once they have found a good food and water source, they start reproducing like crazy, with a typical female able to lay between 300 and 400 eggs in their yearlong lifespan. Oh, and did you know that cockroaches love warm places and have even been known to crawl into people's ears while they are sleeping? Plus they can withstand radiation better than human beings so even if we end up blowing the whole world up with atomic bombs one of these days, cockroaches will still be on earth happily doing their thing."

"Daryl," said my friend with an incredibly disgusted, grossed-out look on her face, "does it ever bother you that sometimes you know way too much about the wrong things?"

"Yes it does," I admitted.

than in jail. . . What are the best chances to provide those programs so they don't recidivate and cause new crimes?"

Villegas said he is opposed to the governor's "tunnel" proposal for the water system. But does he have a favored alternative?

"Storage is a big (alternative), and there is no question there is a need statewide for water, and for a better way to manage our water," he answered. "I don't know if there is any one option right now that is going to serve everyone's needs."

Yolo County's government is now recovering from drastic budget cuts during the recession. That trimmed county services. He's cautiously optimistic things are now on the mend.

"One of the things it's easy to forget is that one of the county's core responsibilities is being that safety net for when people are struggling for whatever reason," said Villegas. "Whether you're in need of mental health services, or substance abuse help or job search services -- there's a range of things that happen in the course of your life."

"I know, because my family had to use it when my father was laid off from the railroad," he said. "It was a struggle for my parents. I remember specifically having to use food stamps to purchase our meals at the end of the day. I want to make sure that . . . people know we're here and (help) as easy to access as possible."

Villegas said he supports the county's policy goals of preserving agricultural land and trying to avoid development on the acres that separate Yolo's individual cities.

"That's the culture and philosophy of the board, but it's tough," he said. "It's not easy to do that. But I agree, that's certainly the right policy and I certainly subscribe to that."

So far in his shortened first term, Villegas feels he has brought a "pragmatic" approach to the Yolo board of supervisors and that he's "been embraced" by his new colleagues. He feels that it has helped that he already had a rapport with various leaders in the region.

"To be able to pick up the phone and talk to a supervisor in Sacramento or a supervisor in Solano County, or the mayor of a city here in the region is how you get things done," said Villegas. "I feel very confident I can pick up the phone and have that conversation."

NORMA ALCALA

for Yolo County Supervisor

OFFICIALLY ENDORSED BY THE CALIFORNIA DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

YOU CAN TRUST NORMA ALCALA TO STOP THE TUNNELS THAT WOULD TAKE OUR WATER AND OUR JOBS SOUTH!

A Yolo County Supervisor has the power to do plenty to stop the tunnels. Norma Alcala is the only candidate in the race who has taken action to stop the water bond and promote an initiative to stop the tunnels. Her opponent, Oscar Villegas, was for the tunnels to get appointed, but has has flip-flopped to claim he is now against the tunnels to get elected. He has done nothing in 112 days in office to stop the tunnels. He is resigned to the tunnels as "inevitable."

YOU CAN TRUST NORMA ALCALA TO BE A FULL-TIME SUPERVISOR!

When we pay $106,000 for a Supervisor, we should get what we pay for -- a full-time Supervisor. In the May 24 Sacramento Bee, Oscar admits that he has two government jobs and that he is working half time as a County Supervisor but draws fulltime pay. This is double dipping. Transparentcalifornia.com lists the Supervisor's salaries and benefits as-$106,000 Don Saylor, $105,000 Jim Provenza,$95,000 Duane Chamberlain, and $93,000 Max Rexroad.

YOU CAN TRUST NORMA ALCALA TO FIX WEST SACRAMENTO'S HORRIBLE 12.9% UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM!

West Sacramento's 12.9% unemployment rate is nearly the worst in America, right down there with Stockton. We need to elect Norma Alcala, who is a business owner with offices in Los Angeles, Orange, Alameda, and Sacramento Counties, who worked as a staffer in the California Legislature for nine years, and who is a former Yolo County Grand Juror, to change 13 years in which unemployment has skyrocketed on Oscar's watch. She brings real life experience that comes from meeting a payroll and rent. Norma is not a career politician. Norma does not feel entitled or groomed for the job. Just like you, Norma works hard for everything she has.

Tuesday, June 3!

Dear Neighbor:

As I've raised my family here, it's been wonderful to watch our community grow. Our diversity of cultures, experience and opportunity has come to echo the unique and rich Delta we live within.

Now, our challenge is to protect this extraordinary region, and insure that everyone, including women, has a voice at the table. I will be the only woman on the Board.

I promise to make sure that your issues, priorities and concerns are represented at the county level, and to be a strong voice for the preservation of our amazing Delta region -- including a vote against the destructive tunnel proposal.

On June 3, I humbly ask for your vote. My door will always be open, and I look forward to working with -- and for -- you. Thank you.

PICKS OF THE WEEK

"Jack Ryan: Shadow Recruit" (PG-13) -- When Russian corporate overlords threaten the world's economy, it's up to one untrained CIA desk worker to stop them (for some reason, maybe the rest of the CIA is busy.) Our hero is Jack Ryan (Chris Pines), protagonist of many a spy novel by Tom Clancy. Ryan starts working for the less-dangerous wing of the CIA, but somehow gets shifted into fieldwork, starting his clandestine adventure dodging assassins in Moscow.

While the plot has more holes than the back wall of a shooting range, "Shadow Recruit" keeps things moving so fast that you can't admire its true flimsiness. Director Kenneth Branagh -- also starring as the villain -- doesn't try to reinvent the global espionage thriller, but he doesn't take many risks with it, either.

"Non-Stop" (PG-13) -- On a crowded flight from New York to London, Air Marshall Bill Marks (Liam Neeson) receives text messages threatening that a passenger will be killed every 20 minutes until ransom money is wired into an offshore account. Don't fret too much about the logistics of telecommunication on a plane, or how people can disappear in such close quarters -- it all just adds to the tension.

Much of the vehicle is pieced together from pieces of other airplane disaster flicks. The real engine pushing this ride is Neeson's tight-fisted commitment to his troubled action-hero role. This isn't just "Taken" set in the sky, however. "Non-Stop" is worth standing in line for.

"Devil's Knot" (R) -- In 1993, three 8-year-old boys were found brutally murdered in the small town of West Memphis, Arkansas. Three teenage boys from the poor side of town (dubbed the "West Memphis Three") were tried and quickly convicted for the murders. Public opinion painted them as monsters and Satanists because the teens were outcasts who listened to heavy-metal music. This drama starring Colin Firth and Reese Witherspoon takes a steady look at the facts in the case. However, the understated performances do not bring the subject to light as well as any of the documentaries.

"Omar" -- A young baker named Omar (Adam Bakri) lives in an impoverished Palestinian village, where he's in contact with people plotting to kill Israeli soldiers. Whenever Omar climbs the security wall to the other side, he's doing it to visit his pals and his gorgeous girlfriend (Leem Lubany). One night, however, Omar is taken into custody, tortured and turned out as a double-agent against the militants from his village.

present-day Poland. Later, after being accepted into the Imperial Ballet of Warsaw, she was diagnosed with tuberculosis, which ended her dancing career. She next turned to acting and worked in Europe with such heavy hitters as Ernst Lubitsch and Max Reinhardt. She arrived in the United States in 1922 and made her first American film, "Bella Donna." Its success led to a lucrative contract at Paramount, where she began to establish herself as a major film personality.

Negri rented a large, Tudor-style mansion and began exhibiting her flair for the exotic and eccentric. For example, she often was seen around Los Angeles in her chauffeur-driven limo, dressed in all white. As she later recalled, "I bought a limousine of pure white, trimmed with ivory and upholstered in white velvet. My chauffeur wore all-white uniforms on sunny days and all black when it rained. I used a white-fur lap rug and was usually seen with two white Russian wolf hounds." She occasionally was seen strutting her stuff on the streets of Beverly Hills draped in either ermine or mink with her pet tiger in tow.

After Rudolph Valentino went to Paris to finalize his divorce with Natacha Rambova, Negri and the star became an item. His sudden death in 1926 ended that relationship, and she became even more intriguing as the original "woman in black."

This crisply written, meticulously researched biography documents one of Hollywood's most fascinating film stars, and also explores the link between Hollywood and European cinema during the interwar years.

Microwave Meals Save Time

You can use your microwave oven to prepare everything from appetizers to desserts. It's also energy efficient, as it won't heat up your kitchen and also helps to retain more nutrients in your foods during the cooking process. In some cases, a microwave is the best way to cook a dish, especially vegetables, because they'll have a better taste and texture.

The history of the microwave oven goes back to 1946, when Dr. Percy Spencer, an electronics genius and war hero, was touring one of the laboratories at the Raytheon Company. The company was testing a vacuum tube called a magnetron, the power tube that drives a radar set. As Dr. Percy stood in front of the "radar box," a candy bar in his pocket melted.

Dr. Percy tried other experiments with food, including using popcorn kernels. He designed a metal box around the magnetron with microwave power. Engineers developed and refined the idea, and the first commercial microwave oven hit the market in 1947. However, original response was not very good, and it wasn't until 1975 that a microwave oven was created for the consumer kitchen.

I encourage you to read the instruction book that came with your microwave. It's the easiest way to find out how to use all of its functions. I especially love my microwave's warming oven feature. It cycles on and off, so I can hold dinner for my husband when he's running late, or keep a casserole dish warm during the holidays.

When cooking on any power level other than HIGH, the oven cooks by cycling power on and off, so the energy has a chance to move through the food without overcooking it. MEDIUM and LOW power are generally used to soften, melt and defrost foods, while HIGH is usually used for cooking. Carefully follow the recipe when using your microwave, and you'll have beautifully cooked meals each time!

This recipe for Quick Stuffed Bell Peppers is easy to assemble and cooks in minutes. It also freezes well, so double the recipe, and when you're pressed for time, you'll have a homemade, microwave meal in minutes!

QUICK STUFFED BELL PEPPERS

8 bell peppers, tops removed and cut into a small dice, white membrane and seeds removed and discarded

1 cup shredded Monterey Jack cheese, divided

1 pound lean ground beef or turkey

5 crackers, crushed into fine crumbs

1 egg, slightly beaten

1 (3 ounce) package dehydrated onion soup mix

1 tablespoon steak sauce

1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

1 teaspoon salt

1 teaspoon black pepper

Tomato Sauce Topping:
8 ounces tomato sauce
2 tablespoons salsa
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon black pepper
2 tablespoons brown sugar

1. Using a large bowl, gently mix together the diced pepper tops, 1/2 cup of cheese, ground meat, crackers, egg, soup mix, steak sauce, Worcestershire sauce, salt and black pepper.

2. Stuff the prepared peppers with the ground meat mixture and stand upright in a lightly greased 12-by-8-by-2-inch baking dish.

3. Combine the tomato sauce, salsa, salt, pepper and brown sugar. Mix well and pour over peppers.

4. Cover tightly with microwave-safe plastic wrap; fold back small edge for steam to escape. Microwave on high 12 to 15 minutes, until the filling is hot and pepper is almost tender. Let stand 6 to 8 minutes. Sprinkle peppers with the remaining cheese. Serve with a side of rice and a salad.

NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHER GIVEN that the City Council has fixed Wednesday, June 4, 2014, at the hour of 7:30 p.m., or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard, at the City Council Chambers, 1110 West Capitol Avenue, West Sacramento, California, as the time and place when and where the City Council will hold a public hearing to consider the adoption of the infrastructure financing plan and establishment of the District. At the hearing, the testimony of all interested persons for or against the establishment of the District, the adoption of the infrastructure financing plan, or the regularity of any of the prior proceedings will be heard.

NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHER GIVEN that if, at the conclusion of the public hearing, the City Council determines to establish the District and adopt the infrastructure financing plan, the City Council will order an election to be held by the qualified electors of the District by mailed ballot, with each such elector having one vote for each acre or portion of an acre owned by the elector.

If you are considering bidding on this property, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (714) 730-2727 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit our Internet Web site - www.ipsasp.com for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case: 11793738. NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF Mary Lou Reilly

CASE NUMBER PB14-72
To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of Mary Lou Reilly:

A Petition for Probate has been filed by Paul Pfannenstiel in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

The Petition for Probate requests that Paul Pfannenstiel be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows: June 25, 2014, at 9:00 a.m. in Dept. 2, Superior Court of California, County of Yolo, 725 Court St., Woodland CA 95695.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a "Request for Special Notice" (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A "Request for Special Notice" form is available from the court clerk. Attorney for Petitioner: Marlene Sanborn adopted its Resolution No. 14-7 in which it declared its intention to establish a community facilities district, to establish an appropriations limit for such district, and to levy a special tax to pay for certain services, all pursuant to the provisions of the Mello-Roos Community Facilities Act of 1982, Chapter 2.5, Part 1, Division 2, Title 5 of the California Government Code and Chapter 3.32 of the City Municipal Code. The resolution describes the boundaries of the proposed district, the services proposed to be financed, and the rate, method of apportionment, and manner of collection of the proposed special tax. The City proposes to tax all interests in property that may be taxed under the Act. For further details, the resolution is available at the office of the City Clerk, 1110 West Capitol Avenue, West Sacramento, California.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON PROPOSED ESTABLISHMENT OF CITY OF WEST SACRAMENTO COMMUNITY FACILITIES DISTRICT "B"

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the West Sacramento City Council on April 16, 2014,

NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHER GIVEN that the City Council has fixed Wednesday, June 4, 2014, at the hour of 7:30 p.m., or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard, at the City Council Chambers, 1110 West Capitol Avenue, West Sacramento, California, as the time and place when and where the City Council will hold a public hearing to consider the establishment of the district. At the hearing, the testimony of all interested persons or taxpayers for or against the establishment of the district, the extent of the district, or the furnishing of the specified services will be heard.

If (i) 50% or more of the registered voters or six registered voters (whichever is more) residing within the district or (ii) the owners of one-half or more of the area of the land within the district that is not exempt from the special tax file written protests against the establishment of the district, and the protests are not withdrawn so as to reduce the value of the protests to less than a majority, the creation of the district and the tax levy shall not be considered for a period of one year from the date of the decision of the City Council after the hearing. If the majority of the registered voters or the landowners protests only against a specific type of service or a specified tax, then that type of service or tax shall be precluded.

NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHER GIVEN that if, at the conclusion of the public hearing, the City Council determines to establish the district, the City Council will order an election to be held by the qualified electors of the district by mailed ballot, with each such elector having one vote for each acre or portion of an acre owned by the elector, on the questions of levying the special tax and establishing an appropriations limit.

Scammers send you a fake check, ask you to send the 'overpayment' right back to them

From the Yolo County District Attorney's Office

District Attorney Jeff Reisig is warning citizens to be alert for offers of employment that turn out to be scams. In one recent case, a Winters' man was victimized and lost $3,500 after using Craigslist to find a driving job. The victim never actually met with the employer and only communicated using text messaging. The victim's new "employer" sent him two paychecks as an advance and told the victim to deposit the checks, keep a portion for himself, and wire the remainder across the county. By the time the victim learned that the checks were fraudulent, the wire transfer had already gone through leaving the victim responsible for the loss.

A second report involved a citizen receiving a United States Postal Service Priority Mail package containing an offer to be a "Mystery Shopper." Included in the package were job duties and instructions to deposit the enclosed cashiers check, take out wages and then wire the remaining funds to the person posing as the employer. This victim also was left responsible for the loss after he realized the checks were fake.

Scam artists use clever schemes to defraud vulnerable victims. In these examples, many of the victims are desperately seeking employment. The scammers use telephones, mail, the internet and wire services to cross geographic boundaries and trick unsuspecting victims. You can protect yourself by learning to recognize "red flags" of fraudulent activity like being paid up front for work that you have not completed or being asked to wire money to someone you have never met.

The District Attorney's Office reminds those seeking employment that they should be very cautious when asked to cash checks or wire money for any reason. We suggest you thoroughly check out any company offering you employment and get everything in writing. For more information on how to keep safe and avoid being scammed, please contact Enforcement Officer Derek Sorriano at the Yolo County District Attorney's Office, (530) 406-4503.
